The committees were then appointed by the chairman as follows: Committee on time and place of next meeting-Comrades Barnes, Company B: Burnett, Company F, and Steese, Company C. Resolutions-Comrades Grinnell, Company I; Farny, Company B, and Bentley, Company G. The committees retired to the ante room for the purpose of preparing resolutions and a slate for the selection of officers for the coming year.

A motion was made to subscribe part of the money in the treasury to the McKinley memorial which is to be erected in Canton. After some discussion this was approved of by those present and $20 selected as the amount to be subscribed.

A collection to defray the expenses of the visiting New Philadelphia Grand Army drum corps was then taken and over $8 realized. The committees were then asked for a report. The committee on time and place reported that they had selected Wellsville, and the second Wednesday and Thursday in August, 1903, as the next place and time of the thirty-fourth annual reunion. The officers elected were: President, General J. W. Reiley, of Wellsville; vice president. G. G. Cope, of Wellsville; sceretary. Thomas W. Butler, of Welisville: treasurer, Jacob Lawrence, of North

Lawrence. The members approved the selection by a unanimous vote, and then resolutions of regret concerning the deaths of the past year were read and approved. After a few selections by the Grand Army drum corps present, the chairman adjourned the meeting, with instructions to the comrades to attend the camp fire services in the evening, beginning at 7:30.

THE CAMP FIRE.

It was shortly after 8 o'clock that the evening services began. The stage was decorated with flags and bunting, mixed with flowers and other decorations. Every seat in the main floor of the hall was taken, and it was found necessary to open the gallery was appreciative goes without saying, the many songs and instrumental selections meeting with especial favor.

The programme as printed in Wednesday's Independent was carried out The only change being the introduction of several selections by a colored trio. The old negro melodies sung touched the veterans present and after some of the more pathetic pieces many tear-dimmed eyes were to be seen. The good old "hoe down" selections stirred the old soldiers and the trio were forced to respond to no less than eight encores.

The class of music as furnished by the Columbia orchestra was the best. The duets and solos were also well received.

After the programme had been completed different comrades were called upon for short stories and reminiscences. The Rev. G. B. Smith. of Fire-Speeches by Various Alliance, was the first to respond and kept the audience laughing for five minutes. The Rev. L. H. Stewart gave some interesting recitals of fierce fights, interspersed with funny stories, after which Chairman Everhard adjourned the meeting until 9:30 ished and good byes spoken.

The Thursday morning meeting was called to order at 9:30 by Chairman employed there as the superintendent Everhard. Only a small part of the visitors of Wednesday were present, not arise at his usual hour. An inmost of the veterans, with their wives from A. F. Fryberger, of North Man- and other relatives, having left Massillon Wednesday night or Thursday Moylan was a large, strong man, and Moorsville, Col.; E. L. Ruff, of Dav- morning, after much handshaking and many hearty good byes.

A motion was made that a committee of three be appointed by the chairman to draft resolutions extending the thanks of the brotherhood to all those connected with the entertainment and reception of the visiting soldiers. The motion was carried, and B. F. Corl, Co. A; William Dougherty, Co. B, and Eli Smith, Co. A, were appointed.

The secretary was instructed to notify Gen. Reiley, of Wellsville, of the action of the brotherhood in selecting rence. Mr. Moylan was politically him for the president of the body for the coming year.

The report of the treasurer showed a balance on hand, after defraying the expenses of the convention, of $27.70.

At 11 o'clock, after Chairman Everhard had made a few brief remarks regarding the coming convention in 1903, a motion was made to adjourn to meet in Wellsville the second Wednesday and Thursday in August.

Many of the old soldiers almost broke down as they realized the fact that a number of those who were present at this reunion would not be with them at ing, of Brooklyn, Mich. Company E the next. Tears were in many eyes, and the partings were hurried in order to avoid painful scenes.

SEASON OF REUNIONS.

Scotts, Freemans and Daums Meet.

The third annual reunion of the morning was spent in renewing friendships and exchanging greeting. At 12 o'clock the ever welcome invitation to dinner was given. After all had responded there was an invocation by George Ingold. An hour or more was then spent in social chat and in doing justice to the luxuries prepared. A few well selected recitations were then given and officers for the coming year were elected. It was decided to meet again at the same place on the same date of 1903.

Mrs. Louis Hair, residing on a farm about four miles north of Massillon, had a narrow escape from death at the Crystal Spring crossing of the B & O. railway, at noon, Thursday. A horse she was driving took fright at a passing freight, and backed the vehicle into the train. The horse was knocked down, the vehicle overturned and Mrs. Hair was pinned to the ground under the buggy, at the edge of the ties of the track. Many people ran to the rescue, and William Leonard, with rare presence of mind, threw himself upon the horse and held it so that its struggling would not force Mrs. Hair under the wheels After the train had passed, same without obtaining relief, but Mrs. Hair, with great difficulty, was exfind that Slusser's Headache, and tricated from the wreck. RECIMENT CALLED TO ARMS.

Striking Miners Arrested at Shenandoah.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 16.—There was an outbreak last night right under the noses of troops in camp, and for a time it looked as though serious trouble would occur. The disorder was the result of a mob chasing an alleged unfair workman near the Philadelphia and Rending Coal and Iron Company's washery, in the southeastern part of the town. There were fifty or sixty men in the mob. As they chased the man up the railroad, throwing stores at him, the night watchmaa at the washery, named Anthony Flinn, tried to rescue the man. The watchman was promptly thrown into the creek running parallel with the railroad by some of those leading in the chase.

The crowd kept after the workman and he rau to the Reading railroad station, where a company of infantry pital, left the first of the week for was on provost duty. The company was immediately called into formation and attempted to hold the crowd back. The captain of the company exercised great patience with the crowd and has handed in his resignation and prevented any serious trouble. The mob caused a large crowd to gather from all directions and word was immediately sent to camp for reinforce. ments. In nine minutes the entire Twelfth regiment and a battalion of the Eighth were on the scene. The man and Mattthew Bronz, who are alleged to have been participants in the assault on the watchman and the workmen, were arrested and taken to the town lockup. That the "boom" period of the automobile has arrived is indicated by the fact that $1,000,000 worth of French machines have just been contracted for by a New York firm, and it is probable that the same conditions will soon exist in all the cities and larger towns of the United States as are the rule now in France, where the automobile has become almost a necessity. The fatal accident to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair, which occurred while the automobile was being driven at a high rate of speed, is one of many indications that the machines have not yet reached a state of perfection where their use is unattended by danger. It is to be hoped that amateur chauffers in this vicinity will cut out all attempts at scorching.

CASCADES IN ST. LOUIS

Novel Feature Planned For the World's Fair.

THE DETAILS OF THE DESIGN.

Huge Pumping Capacity Is Proposed, With Electric Effects Behind the Fall of Water-Spectacle of Wonderful Beauty Promised. The Cascades Will Have a Fail of Eighty Feet.

Work on the one of the most unique of the exposition features was begun the other day when the surveyors of the engineering department of the St. Louis world's fair began taking the grades on Art hill to determine the exact cut and fill that will be needed for the cascades and relative features, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The surveying work was preparatory to the letting of the contract for the necessary removal of earth.

From descriptions of the work which is to be done at St. Louis given by Director of Works Isaac S. Taylor, it is evident that the amount of money to be expended on the hill will exceed the cost of any other single feature or, in fact, any one feature of any other exposition. The manner in which the cascades are to be kept supplied with clear water and the devices adopted for producing illuminating effects are of the greatest promise. Among the things mentioned are a crystal cave back of the cascades and arrangements by which the water, descending at night, will have all the hues of the rainbow, with an infinite combination

The chief feature of the cascades will be a sheer drop of from twenty to twenty-five feet, back of which plate glass will be so disposed that a chamber will be formed from which the illuminating effects may be operated. At this point also there will be a statuary group of nymphs and maids and a cavern of crystal. During the day the falls will be simply a descent of limpid water, but at night, when the color effects are turned on, a spectacle of wonderful beauty is promised.

In conjunction with the cascades a pumproom is to be established for the operation of the water. For this the interesting plan has been arranged of excavating a cavern at the base of the hill, setting well back into the earth. Here a pump station will be inaugurated, the motive power to be electricity furnished by wires connecting with the electric plant on the grounds. Nine pumps, with a capacity of 15,000 gallons of water per minwill be kept constantly moving, and the only loss will be from evaporation. Mr. Taylor says that the pumproom will be concealed from sight, but ors may be shown the operating of

The plans of Director of Works Taylor regarding this main feature have been considerably developed. OUTING FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS.

Montclair (N. J.) Youths to Camp In Fine Style In Maine.

Nearly 100 boys from prominent families in Montclair, N. J., left town the other afternoon for Maine, where they will go into camp for a month, says the New York Times. They are under the management of F. R. Armstrong, the head of the boys' department of the Montchair Young Men's Christian association.

Their camp is named after President Gladding of the Montclair association, and is on Moody island, near Friendship, Me. The equipment is superb. The tents are 12 feet by 12 feet, double toofed. The dining pavilion is 35 feet by 70, and with its huge fireplace will serve as a last resort in inclement

A fleet of twelve rowboats and a war canoe will be in charge of the boatkeeper. On a hill above tidewater will be pitched the tents in a circle. On the second open space is built the dining pavilion. The baseball diamond occupies the third open space. A tennis court will be available, and cricket will also be played.

A Challenge to an Author.

HOME OF NOVEL DEVICES.

How Everard B. Wilton Runs His Household by Electricity.

There is a home in Shore View Park, Jamaica, in the berough of Queens, New York, where nearly all the household work is done by electricity, says the New York Herald. Everard B. Wilton, a retired hardware dealer and an inventor, occupies the home, and it was his cunning hand that devised and set in operation the many electrical appliances that evoke both the admiration and awe of his neighbors.

His meals are cooked by electricity, his baby is rocked by electricity, his rooms are swept and dusted by electricity, his doors are opened and shut by electricity, his house and grounds are lighted by electricity, the opening and closing of his front gate are controlled by an electric button in the house, telephones are in all the rooms and connected with his stable, where his horses are curried by electricity. There is an electric spanker to which the youngsters are at times introduced, and even the movements of a flock of pet pigeons belonging to one of the boys are controlled by electricity, for the doors of the pigeon house are opened and closed by a current. Electrical mosquito exterminators guard the windows and doors. After the family has retired for the night an electrical burglar alarm is set, and no one could surreptitiously enter or leave the house or grounds without setting in motion a hundred and one different devices, ringing the electric alarms, lighting up the house and grounds, tumbling everybody out of bed, starting the cradle going and sounding an alarm in the police station and the nearest fire house.

All the power for all these many tricks and contrivances is generated by an innocent looking windmill plantof an endless chain device, operates a dynamo, which is connected with storage batteries.

Thus far only one of Mr. Wilton's inventions has got the better of him. It was an electric lawn mower.

WHISTLED TEXT IN PULPIT.

Pastor Imitated the Notes of the Meadow Lark.

Whistling his text was a new meth od that Rev. Vaughn S. Collins employed in the service in the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church at Smyrna, Del., says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Dr. Collins' new method was rather startling to his congregation, for he is considered one of the most dignified members of the Wilmington conference and for several years was president of the Conference academy at Dover. When it came time to preach the sermon, Dr. Collins arose in the pulpit and whistled four times, each note being an imitation of the song of the meadow lark. The preacher said that on a recent visit to the country he heard a meadow lark, and it suggested a very propriate sermon, as he likened the song of the bird to the text, "Thou, God, seest me," as found in the thirteenth verse of the sixteenth chapter of Genesis. Following the whistling of the text Dr. Coilins preached an eloquent sermon and pointed out to his hearers how God saw and heard repentant sin-

He is now erecting pens in which the fowls will be raised. They will then be permitted to wander about the large place at will, and the foxes will feed upon them as they choose. Mr. Mather has been paying for all the poultry destroyed in the locality by his animals and has now decided that it will be cheaper to rear the food for them him-

There are altogether about twentyfive wild foxes upon the estate, which comprises several hundred acres. Four dens of little ones are located in a wood there, and recently several more young ones were released by Mr. Mather.

Sermon Censor.

The Rev. Robert Zaring, pastor of a Methodist church of Indianapolis, makes the suggestion that the church appoint sermon inspectors to examine sermons before they are delivered, with a view to eliminating obsolete, trite or heretical matter, says the Philadelphia Times. He evinces his good faith by expressing a willingness to run the risk of losing some of the contents of his own sermon barrel if only the general public may be benefited.

LAMP WICKS.

the Multitude of Styles Causes Trouble For Storekeepers.

"You wouldn't think that people would bother to exchange a little thing like a lamp wick," said a clerk in a general supply store, "but the fact is that we are asked to take back yards of the stuff.

"Indeed, of all the commodities we handle none gives us more trouble than lamp wicks. There are at present about a thousand different kinds of lamps and oil stoves on the market, each with different sized burners, which naturally require as many different kinds of wick. We carry an endless variety; still we cannot supply the wants of our customers. This is pretty much their own fault, however, for instead of examining the old wick and finding out just what they need before they leave home they merely guess at its measurements, and when I ask what size they want they say:

"'Oh, about so big!" "They leave me to go the rest of the way blindly. As a consequence I often make mistakes, and the next day they bring the wick back and want to exchange it for something that will fit the burner. If they have taken the precaution to learn what they want, we accommodate them, even though the returned wick does smell to heaven with oil. Through pursuing this policy we now have hundreds of yards of dispose of, but this question of lamp wicks is so complex that there seems no remedy for the difficulty."-New York Times.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT TO MORLEY

Features of Acton Library Presented to the British Statesman. The library which Lord Acton collected at Aldenham park, in England, and for which he had, some thirty years ago, a special addition to his house built, is so complete as a storehouse of modern secular and ecclesiastical history that it is surpassed by few public institutions and is equaled by no private library in Europe or America, says the New York Times. In one respect indeed the library is unique. A large number of the volumes were annotated by Lord Acton. That great scholar, whose learning has been proverbial in England for the last quarter of a century, wrote very little, but his enormous stores of information were used in amplifying the volumes in his possession. Doubtless it is this fact that has induced Mr. Carnegie to present the books to the Right Hon. John Morley, for Mr. Morley is perhaps the one man in the world best equipped to utilize the knowledge which is contained in the Acton books and the annotations which Lord Acton made.

The subjects which chiefly interested Lord Acton, such as the history of the papacy and that of modern Europe, especially Germany, France and Italy; the Jesuits and the evolution of political opinion and of political economy are most of them subjects on which wick on our hands that we can never Mr. Morley is an authority. Sisters Wish to Come to United States Rome, Aug. 16.-Members of the re ligious orders expelled from France, especially sisters, are applying to the vatican authorities for permission to settle in the United States. Several of them have come to Rome person ally for the purpose of urging their requests. A reply has been sent to them, pointing out that there are no vacancies in the United States, and desides, calling attention to the diffi culty arising from the fact that the expelled sisters do not speak the Eng lish language.

Canada has been suggested as a better field, as sisters are comparatively scarce there, and because French is spoken in a large area of the Dominion. The applicants, how ever, did not take kindly to the suggestion, and persist in their request to go to the United States.

TO KILL PATTISON

ATTEMPT MADE UPON LIFE OF PENNSYLVANIAN.

Infernal Machine Sent-Failed to Explode-Plot Revealed by Letters.

Philadelphia, Aug. 16.—An attemp! upon the life of Robert E. Pattison, former governor of the state of Penn sylvania, and at present the Democratic nominee for the same office, was made in this city, the information just now coming to light, according to The North American.

The infernal machine, containing several pounds of gunpowder in a concentrated and highly powerful form, was sent to Mr. Pattison by express. The sender of the package had neglected to place the means of ignition in the parcel, trusting to circumstances for the working out of his plan. The senders of the package are under surveillance and arrests are expected within a few hours.

A test of the strength of the powder was made at the League Island navy vard by Captain Delano, ordnance of ficer. He declared positively that It was powder of the same character as that which is stored at Ft. Mifflin. and he said that there was a possibility that it might have been secured at that place.

The first intimation that there was a plot under way was gleaned from an anonymous letter received by the Philadelphia North American. The letter said:

"There are rumors that a downtown gang are sending an infernal machine to Governor Pattison. Do you know anything about it?"

A second anonymous letter was received. It urged immediate action on the part of the paper, and the outline of the plot was given. The package the anonymous writer said, had been mailed from the Bingham house, Philadelphia, addressed to Governor Pat t'son, and marked "Ore samples."

Judge Brucker was put on the stand to testify regarding an alleged attempt made some months ago, when the New York people were here taking depositions at his office, to force Mr Hahn to settle by threatening him with an indictment, but Judge Camp-Fell sustained Todd's objections to a rumber of the questions asked.

TRADE PROSPECTS IMPROVED.

Due to Adjustment of Numerous Labor Controversies-Failures For the Week.

New York, Aug. 16.--R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Prospects have greatly improved through the adjustment of numerous labor controversies, yet the anthracite coal strike situation is unchanged and supplies are nearing depletion. Distribution of merchandise has met with some interruption, owing to treight blockades, the volume of business being very heavy.

Statistics of pig iron production on Aug. 1, according to The Iron Age, are more satisfactory than might have been expected in view of the great scarcity of fuel. A weekly capacity of 336,465 tons is 15,599 tons less than the high record of May 1, it is true. but compares favorably with all earlier dates, and shows an increase of 32,618 tons over the output a year ago. These figures by no means suggest a serious setback in the industry, but rather emphasize the abnormal condition of demand, which finds such a heavy yield entirely inadequate. Southern furnaces have contracted so far in advance that they have practically withdrawn from the market, and all dates for deliveries are remote, except where foreign arrivals are offered. Pressure for steel is undiminished, and the urgency of domestic consumers is shown by additional imports of large size. Structoral material is sought by car shops and bridge builders, while many office buildings and other steel structures are planned. Coke production in the Connellsville region exceeds 250,000 tons weekly and outside ovens are also surpassing all records of activity. Yet shipments are unsatisfactory, causing frequent delays.

FLURRY IN MONEY RATE.

Solicitude Over Possible Stringency Evident, Yesterday.

New York, Aug. 16.-The solicitude felt over the possible stringency of money was exemplified by the effect upon the stock market of a flurry in the call money rate to 6 per cent. The fact that stock exchange loans made ing 15 years, from Hamilton county, on Friday carry over until the fol- O., for shotting to kill. All other aplowing Monday makes the customary demand on Friday somewhat more urgent than on other days. The special cause offered to explain yesterday's sharp advance was the maturity of subscriptions for the new Oregon Short Line collateral bonds, secured by deposit of Northern Securities shot by the accidental discharge of a stock. The payment called for about gun. $15,000,000 and necessitated considrequirement. The rate dropped back the murder of his 7-weeks-old daughto near 4 per cent near the close, after the demand had been satisfied. There have been a number of other syndicate operations during the week, which may upset calculations as to the bank statement today. Among his child by the heels and struck its these were the payment of subscriptions to the United States Shipbuilding company, the payment of dividend to the United States Steel underwriting syndicate, and the dividend on street, Reserve township, near Alle United States Steel preferred, payable yesterday. So far as the indi cated cash changes promise, today's bank statement will not be unfavorable. The movement of currency with the interior seems to be in favor of New York still, the receipts on balance during the week amounting to $1,500,000, against the loss to the sub-treasury of $633,000. MANY STORES BURNED,

Hamilton, O., Visited by a $200,000 Fire.

Hamilton, O., Aug. 16.-One of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city originated Thursday night at 11 o'clock in the basement of the large dry goods and carpet store of T. V. Howell & Son, High street. In a short time the interior of the Howell block was a mass of flames, and burned briskly until the fire communicated with the Second National bank ouilding, burning out the rear second and third floors and the front third floor.

The Mehrum block, next door, was also damaged, and the carpet store of Creighton and Hooven was drenched with water. The fire department was unable to control the fire, which burned until 4 o'clock. The damage to Howell will reach over $175,000, Holbrook Bros., in the Mehrum block. $10,000; bank building, $30,000, with other smaller losses,

The Cincinnati fire department was asked for assistance and sent two engines, which arrived after the fire was under control.

SMART COTTON GOWNS.

Fancy For Mercerised Lineas-Silk Petticonts With Wash Gowns.

Cotton gowns this season are very dainty, and there is quite a fancy for the pinks and deep reds in glace linens. White trimmings have rather & tawdry effect on this type of cotton, but black is frequently used in the form of black velvet ribbon, chantilly lace, etc.

Some of the dress hollands and art linens are so bright and effective with the silky, mercerized effects that they make up into rather dressy gowns, especially when trimmed with coarse

Silk petticoats are now worn with wash gowns. They are certainly more comfortable and lighter weight than the long, unwieldy cambric garments, which are both troublesome and expensive on account of the frequent launderings necessary. Nearly all the cotton gowns are softened with little collars of embroidery or crochet lace.

A gown of white clamine is here shown. The waist has a wide sailer collar edged with Irish crochet lace. The inner vest is of tucked chiffon, as also are the undersleeves. The skirt John Ruskosky, of No. 5 Seventh is elaborately trimmed with the Irish crocket lace, and there are two gored flounces edged also with the lace,

WHAT IS WORN.

Tailor Made.

The prettiest gowns worn by the smartest women are invariably those of the picturesque order; by that is meant those which have little individual touches.

Some of the most effective boas are made of silk petals resembling roses and popples. One of the latest things in neckgear is a large flat collar of glace, partly veiled with another collar of plaited mousselme de soie with hand veinings and lace inserted therein.

DRESSY TAILOR MADE.

A wide collar of lace set over chiffon and having ends of the chiffon is also very pretty.

For cold, dull days nothing is more useful than the marabou boa. Very smart neckpieces are made up of black or ecru lace shirred up skillfully and intermixed with narrow velvet ribbons.

A serviceable tallor made is shown in the cut. It can be worn on many occasions owing to its dainty finish. The blouse coat has round revers faced with white embroidered silk. The sleeves are slashed to show full puffs of corded silk. The skirt has five folds simulating flounces. These are headed with tiny pipings of taffeta. JUDIC CHOLLET.

CORRIGAN'S SUCCESSOR.

The Right Rev. John M. Farley Has Been Confirmed.

New York, Aug. 16.-Private advices received here make it appear a practical certainty that the Right Rev. John M. Farley is to succeed to the archbishopric of New York, made vacant by the death of the late Archbishop Corrigan. It is stated on the best of authority that the nomination has been confirmed at Rome and the formal announcement of the appointment may be expected any day.

Bishop Farley was nominated for the honor by the suffragans of the archdiocese, his name, it is said, being the first on the list. He has been for many years closely identified with the work of the archdiocese, and his elevation has been expected. It is said that he will be thoroughly satisfactory to both the clergy and laity of the section of the church which will be under his jurisdiction.

Zion Congregation Still Has Its Ills.

She Says That the Rev. Dr. Transue Must Make a Retraction of Some Things She Claims He Said or That He Must Step Down From the Pastorate.

The good old-fashioned prayer meeting that the conference recommended to the Massillon African Zion church as a cure for its ills, if it was held, does not seem to have had the desired effect. There is as much strife and contention in the fold as ever. Miss Mary Bowman, though she may have forgiven the Rev. Dr. J. E. Transue for what he said about her, nevertheless insists that he must make public retraction or step down from his high station. On this point Miss Bowman says follows: To the Editor of The Independent:

An article appeared in The Independent a few weeks ago concerning the Rev. Mr. Transue, Presiding Elder Lewis and Miss Mary Bowman. Miss Bowman has not published any thing heretofore concerning the matter and just arrived home this week. having been detained by the death of an intimate friend. She wishes here to say that her statement was heard and sanctioned by a unanimous vote of the conference, and as was published in the Youngstown Telegram just after the conference. Except the published concerning that article he will be dismissed at once. The statements which he made in the article are false and untrue and neither will the presiding elder nor Miss Bowman tolerate such false statements.
